APHRs Emerging Leaders' Summit 2023

31 August - 3 September 2023, Hong Kong

Call for Applications

The APHRs Emerging Leader's Summit 2023 will bring together emerging leaders in cardiac electrophysiology from the Asia-Pacific region to meet, network with their peers and to gain insights and mentoring from senior established stalwarts and pioneers in the field. The Summit will enable fruitful exchange of ideas and give an opportunity to understand region and context-specific problems in the clinical practice of electrophysiology as well as for research. It is hoped that this summit will also help identify and carry forward a pool of talented electrophysiologists who will develop and open new frontiers in the management of rhythm disorders in the Asia-Pacific region.

APHRs hereby calls for applications for Emerging Leaders' Summit 2023. Successful applicants will be invited to take part in this program which will be held in Hong Kong as a pre-conference summit, prior to commencement of the 16th APHRs Annual Scientific Meeting (APHRs 2023 Hong Kong).
