

APHR Emerging Leaders' Summit 2026

21 October 2026, Busan

Call for Applications

The APHR Emerging Leader's Summit 2026 will bring together emerging leaders in cardiac electrophysiology from the Asia-Pacific region to meet, network with their peers and to gain insights and mentoring from senior established stalwarts and pioneers in the field. The Summit will enable fruitful exchange of ideas and give an opportunity to understand region and context-specific problems in the clinical practice of electrophysiology as well as for research. It is hoped that this summit will also help identify and carry forward a pool of talented electrophysiologists who will develop and open new frontiers in the management of rhythm disorders in the Asia-Pacific region.

APHR hereby calls for applications for Emerging Leaders' Summit 2026. Successful applicants will be invited to take part in this program which will be held in Busan, Korea as a pre-conference summit, prior to commencement of the 19th APHR Annual Scientific Meeting (APHR 2026 Busan).
